

Sustainable investment policy in the IST investment groups

IST's primary objective is to ensure that the pension fund assets entrusted to us achieve a performance in line with the market. We firmly believe that a sustainable investment policy can improve the risk/return ratio of our investments without negative impacts on the performance.

The exclusion of companies from the investment universe represents the largest sanction possibility in the portfolios. Before any decision is made, measures such as the exercise of proprietary rights and engagement that reduce the risk of continued violations of standards are investigated.

Complementing this focus of our investment policy in the area of sustainability, exclusion criteria at country, sector and company level have been gradually implemented in all IST investment groups since 2018. The criteria are based on the list of recommendations of the Swiss Association for Responsible Investments (SVVK – ASIR), the United Nations Principles for Responsible Investment, the Federal Act of 13 December 1996 on War Material and sanction measures of the Swiss Government.

Cluster munitions and anti-personnel mines

IST supports the ban on anti-personnel mines agreed by 121 states at the Ottawa Conference in 1997 and the UN convention outlawing cluster munitions adopted in 2008. In line with its sustainability objectives in relation to asset investment, IST positions itself against the production, stockpiling, trade and use of these controversial weapons and excludes companies operating in this sector from investments and the granting of loans.

Nuclear weapons

Nuclear weapons are weapons of mass destruction which, along with chemical and biological weapons, are banned by the UN Convention. In addition to the physical destruction they cause, in armed conflicts they also inflict great suffering on the civilian population. The signatories of the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty, which include all but five states in the world, undertake to refrain from acquiring nuclear weapons. For their part, the five official nuclear powers are committed in the long term to complete and internationally controlled disarmament. At present, however, parts of their nuclear arsenal are being modernised and expanded. IST sees this as a violation of the treaty in force and excludes companies operating in this sector.

Coal mining and power generation

Coal is a fossil fuel whose extraction and use for power generation and other purposes has far-reaching environmental, social and health consequences. IST is committed to supporting the Paris Agreement of 2015, which was adopted by 195 countries and the European Union. This agreement aims to limit the global average temperature increase in this century to 2 degrees above pre-industrial levels. Companies that generate more than 25 % of their revenues from coal mining or coal-fired electric power generation are excluded from investments by IST investment groups. The assessment is based on Pictet/Sustainalytics.

Sound analysis by SVVK – ASIR and Sustainalytics

The Swiss Association for Responsible Investments (SVVK – ASIR) was founded in December 2015 by major institutional investors. The purpose of the Association is to provide services for its members to enable them to behave responsibly towards the environment, society and the economy in a holistic manner when taking their investment decisions.

Sustainalytics is a global leader in ESG and corporate governance analysis and rating. Founded in 1992 and now part of Morningstar, the company advises hundreds of the world's leading investors that take account of ESG and corporate governance considerations into their investment processes. The acquisition of GES International in 2019 strengthened its market position in the engagement segment.

Countries

In addition to sectors and companies, exclusion criteria are also applied to government bonds in IST's investment groups. This is based on sanction measures of the Swiss Government, in particular against countries that are subject to a comprehensive arms and repressive goods embargo due to a violation against international law, such as human rights. Sanctions and embargo lists of the United Nations (UN Security Council Arms Embargo) and the European Union. Externally mandated portfolio managers may apply additional exclusion criteria such as the sanctions of the US Department of the Treasury (OFAC¹).
